RECORDS FOR INTRODUCING BILLS BROKEN

1430 IN THE HOUSE, 1257 IN THE SENATE

PREVIOUS RECORD WAS 1398 BILLS IN HOUSE, 1206 IN SENATE

LEGISLATURE IS CONSCIENTIOUS, CONSIDERS ALMOST EVERY BILL

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 30.—All records for the number of bills introduced has been broken by the present legislature.

From now on bills can only come in when accompanied with a request for their introduction by the governor. About 50 more probably will be presented in each house in this way before the final adjournment on April 22nd.

So far there has been 1430 bills introduced in the house and 1257 in the senate. The previous record for an entire session made two years ago was 1398 in the house and 1206 in the senate.

More than 200 of the bills in each body ask payments of soldier's bonuses aggregating more than $20,000. Most of these measures have been recommended to pass by the Soldiers' Bonus committee and are now before either the appropriation or finance committees.

The legislature also is destined to make another record by considering nearly every bill introduced. Usually several hundred bills are never looked at, being dumped into the hopper on the last night. By the end of this week, most of the big measures will be out of the way, except for the action of the conference committee. This will allow nearly three weeks for cleaning up minor proposals. The senate tomorrow takes up the bill for reorganization of the state government. On Thursday it will have the highway refinancing and the bus regulation bills before it and on Friday, the state highway traffic code which also creates a state policie force to patrol roads and deal with traffic law violators.

The Rural Credits bill authorizing issuance of $30,000,000 more bonds to raise money for loans to farmers; the two-cents a gallon gasoline tax and the automobile tax reduction bill will be made special order of the senate within a few days. All these bills have passed the house.

The only big measure pending in the house is the one for reorganization of the state government. Plans are to make it a special order for Thursday.

The house will vote tomorrow on a group of bills amending the workmen's compensation act. On Saturday it will act on a number of banking bills recommended to pass by the banks committee. Friday it will consider bills indorsed by the state bar association and also district and probate judges.

The appropriation committee of the house and finance committee of the senate plan to have most of the remaining appropriation bills ready in a few days.

So far the board of control and semi-state activities bills appropriating about $10,000,000 for the next two years have been reported out. The other bills will appropriate around $30,000,000 more making the total about the same as two years ago.

Members are striving to make the appropriation less than in 1923 in accordance with the economy program of Governor Christianson, but considerable difficulty is encountered in making reductions.

The problem of the motor bus taxation remains to be solved by both houses. Also there is an extensive education program to come up as a special order and a number of marketing bills.

When these measures are out of the way each body will be free to devote the rest of the session to bills on the calendar and general orders. There are 15 bills now on the house calendar and 197 on general orders. The senate has 32 bills on the calendar and 216 on general orders.

St. Paul, March 30.—The house temperance committee met this afternoon to consider the resolution asking modification or repeal of the Volstead Act. Rep. McDonald, St. Paul, author of the resolution, has announced that if the resolution is killed in committee, he will bring in a minority report. The stand of every member of the legislature on prohibition will thus be obtained, he said.

Distill Their Own

(By United Press)

Berlin, March 30.—Germans are taking to the American method of "distilling their own."

A firm which makes "essences" is doing a rushing business with its product which is guaranteed to produce the finest liquors at half the usual market price. It adds that these essences can be "brewed at home," thus freeing the consumer from the present high cost of public drinking.

The police in Germany cannot interfere with this process.

YOUNG PLANCK EXONERATED FROM ROBBERY CHARGE

DECLARED TO HAVE NO CONNECTION WITH EXPRESS CAR HOLDUP

WATCH FOB HAD BEEN STOLEN BY BANDITS AND DROPPED AT LaPORTE

(By United Press)

Chicago, March 30—Police today exonerated E. F. Planck, Jr., 23, of blame in connection with the robbery of $1,000 from the express car of the New York Cetral train at LaPorte, Ind., yesterday.

A watch fob belonging to Planck was found at Laporte by police after the two young men had committed the holdup of Howard R. Young, express mesenger with whom they were riding. Planck said he had been robbed of the fob and gave satisfactory account of his movement during the time of the robbery. Young is being examined by Cleveland police. He said two young men handed him a note written by a Mr. Hotchkiss, an express agent, authorizing them to ride with him as far as Laporte.

A few moments after the train left Chicago the young men drew revolvers, bound and gagged Young and rifled the car. Then they left the train at Laporte. The Hotchkiss note was a forgery.

CLIMBS POWER TOWER AND KILLED

WM. HUMPHREY, 15, HAS LIFE SNUFFED OUT NEAR CHIPPEWA FALLS, WIS.

Chippewa Falls, Wis., March 30.—The spring song that William Humphrey, 15, yodeled Sunday from the top of a 40-foot power line tower ebbed away in death when the lad's swinging foot came in contact with wires carrying 6,000 volts.

Walking along the railroad track with several other boys, William was seized with a desire to scale one of the high-tension wire towers. His companions saw him reach the top in safety. He sat down and started to sing. His foot swung too near one of the wires and a blinding flash snuffed out his life.

SWOLLEN TORRENTS ARE BURSTING DOWN FROM MOUNTAINS

WIPING OUT ROADS, CARRYING AWAY BUILDINGS

HEAVY TOLL OF LIVES REPORTED BEING TAKEN

Lima, Peru, March 30—As heavy rains continued to swell Peruvian rivers many villages are facing complete destruction.

The swollen torrents bursted down from mountain sides are wiping out roads, carrying away buildings and taking a heavy toll of lives.

In the maritime department of Lambayeque, the situation has assumed the character of a catastrophe. Three-fourths of the buildings are reported to have collapsed.

The dispatch from Eten, a small seaport, says many workers attempted to erect a barricade to dam the rumbling torrents, were drowned.

From Drujillo comes a report that many buildings have collapsed and many lives lost.

DEPARTMENT STORE FLOORWALKER WAS SHOT AND KILLED IN ST. PAUL

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 30—Police today were no nearer solution of the mysterious murder late Saturday of Harry Davis, floor manager at the S. S. Kresge store.

Davis was shot through the heart by an unidentified assailant who escaped in the Saturday shopping crowd. Two suspects are held at central police station, but police admit they do not believe either of them the murderer.

SURVEY SHOWS NORMAL FARM LABOR SITUATION

A survey of the farm labor situation in Minnesota has been made this month by the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation and a compilation of reports from the various counties reveals an average demand for farm workers by the day, month and eight months.

The survey shows the average wages being paid in the state to be as follows: Per day, $1.82; per month, $37.60; per month on 8 months' contract, $44.25.

These figures are slightly lower than those of 1924 except for the 8 months' worker, the exact average figures a year ago being $1.89, $38.93 and $44.15, respectively.

A clas for parents who seek information on child training during the pre-school period will be established by the Denver public schools. The whole course is not yet determined, and the class is frankly an experiment.

COUNTY SALARIES CUT BY NEW LAW

MORRISON COUNTY, BY SPECIAL BILL, TO SAVE $10,000 YEARLY

St. Paul, March 30—Morrison county is expected to save between $8,000 and $10,000 a year in salaries paid to county officials as a result of a bill introduced in the legislature by Senator C. Rosenmeier, Little Falls, which became a law on Thursday on being signed by Governor Christianson.

The bill is said to be the first of its kind to pass both houses of the legislature in recent years, the unusual feature of it being that salaries of all county employes are slashed under its provisions.

In addition to cutting the salaries the new law provides that many of the fees, such as those paid to the county treasurer and the county auditor heretofore and which have been retained by them shall now be paid into the county treasury.

ODD COMBATS SEEN IN JUNGLE WORLD

Constant Struggle Seems to Be Nature's Law.

Boars, bears and hyenas are formidable fighting animals. Wolves and other members of the dog family hunt in packs and are clever fighters, says a writer in the New York Herald-Tribune. They are fleet of foot and full of courage. Sanderson, the Mysore hunter, gives some fine stories of the hunting capacity of dogs. He tells about the conquest of an elephant by dogs named Marquis, a bull-mastiff; Lady, a bull-terrier; Bismarck, Viper and Fury, pups of the above, nine months old, and Turk, an old bull-terrier. He said:

"I had taken my dogs to capture a bear in the jungle when we saw an elephant coming toward us. I decided to let the dogs attack him. Then the elephant turned and made off. He had not gone 200 yards. Turk and Lady were up to it and Lady had secured a cheek hold. Turk seized the trunk, Bismarck held an ear and Bill Sykes, another bulldog, had him by a leg. The fierceness of this fight cannot be told in words. The elephant roared lustily and dragged the dogs along, often on their backs, and apparently in imminent risk of being trampled to death. The smaller dogs, maddened by excitement, were yelling and snapping at the elephant's feet. This fight went on for hours until finally my men assisted the dogs and tied the elephant's legs with a rope. All the animals were completely exhausted and injured. All were bleeding from numerous wounds. Plenty of milk and good, soft beds of straw soon put the dogs into good bear-hunting condition again."

This experienced hunter, in speaking of the courage of bulldogs, said: "A bulldog is not dismayed by any object, however strange. In this respect it differs from every other created being."

The jungle world is full of bloody contests of this character. Every hunter can relate innumerable experiences about animal combats, strategy and the many types of armor nature furnishes the organic world with for assault and defense. It is a fighting world and must have fights, and, as Bishop Whewell, in his Bridgewater treatise, wisely said long ago: "Regarding the material world, we can at least go so far as this—we can perceive that events are brought about not by isolated interpositions of divine power, exerted in each particular case, but by the establishment of general laws."

The struggle of the whole of the organic orders for existence is one of these general laws and would almost seem to be a necessary one.

Shaw's Good Stories

The vegetarian savant, George Bernard Shaw, has false teeth. It develops. He told a story about them while dining out, a thing he seldom does, usually preferring meatless meals at his own board.

While on a holiday in Italy last year, "G. B. S." said, he absentmindedly left his teeth behind, and only recovered them when a youth rushed up the gangplank of his vessel, waving them in the air and shouting at him.

"What did you do?" Shaw was asked.

"Put them in, of course, with great eclat," he replied.

Shaw also referred to his patriarchal beard which, he avers, was turned a bright green by the recent pea-soup fog that darkened and dirtied London for 60 hours.

In order to restore a clean color to his facial adornment, he told his listeners, he had to scrub it with a cleansing preparation famous for polishing pots and pans.

Everyday Radio

BY KIMBALL HOUTON STARR

INTERFERENCE FROM POWER LINES

Many of the noises heard in the loud speaker of a radio set are not due to any difficulty in the receiver but to electrical disturbances or "man-made" static coming from sources outside of the receiver.

A good test of these disturbances is to disconnect the antenna entirely from the receiver. If the noises diminish in intensity or disappear entirely, one may be sure that their source is external to the receiver.

"Man-made" static may originate in power transmission circuits, lightning arresters, transformers transmission line insulators, motors and generators, arc lights, telephone and telegraph lines, sparking street car trolleys, electrical railroad equipment, door bells, electric light switching systems, sewing machine motors, vacuum cleaners, electric washing machines and other household appliances; X-ray machines, storage battery chargers, electric elevators, etc.

There is no universal panacea for "man-made" static. If one has a power line running along outside their house which is causing extreme disturbance, the only remedy is to get the power company to help run down the trouble and eliminate it, which they are many times glad to do.

The possibilities of changing the position of the receiver; changing the antenna length and its direction by use of a loop or a very short indoor antenna, and putting condensers in series with the antenna and ground system is about all the ordinary listener-in can do to reduce these disturbances.

Ofttimes the simple expedient of changing the position of the receiver or the direction of the antenna may do very much to eliminate such disturbing noises.

ATTENDED COURSE IN FORESTRY STUDY

Forest Ranger E. H. Rhodes and Assistant Milton A. Rhodes at St. Paul Conference

30 MEN TAKE THE COURSE

Rhodes Transferred From Brainerd to Itasca State Park District

Forest Ranger E. H. Rhodes, in charge of the Brainerd district, and his assistant, Milton A. Rrodes, who have been attending a forestry short course at the University farm school, St. Paul, for the past two weeks, returned on Saturday afternoon. They report a very instructiye and interesting session, some thirty men taking the course.

Milton Rhodes has been transferred to District No. 10, with headquarters at Itasca state park, and left on Saturday evening to take up his new duties there as ranger.

Mr. Rhodes was assistant to his brother in the Brainerd office during the past winter and made many friends in the city, who will be glad to hear of his advancement, for the transfer comes in the form of a promotion.

Thirteen men took the examination about a month ago to become patrolmen in the forestry service and N. D. Anderson of Solway, who has been attending the Brainerd Commercal College the past four months, received the highest average. He has been accepted as patrolman and will work out of the Brainerd office.

A. Frank Anderson of Emily, has resumed his duties as patrolman in that vicinity, going to work again on Sunday. More patrolmen are to be put into service if the dry weather continues and makes it necessary, said E. H. Rhodes.

There has been some trouble with grass fires in meadows in the Brainerd district, according to the ranger, and several of these fires have spread beyond control, doing some damage.

The state forestry department is insisting that the forest rangers be very strict in demanding that burning permits be obtained before any burning is done and rangers have been instructed to prosecute all violators of this ruling.

Children

Some people without little children seem to have complete lives, but they are only a few. In these days, when we are so keenly interested in the future, in new forms of education, and in the actual instincts of the species, it seems as if children have more to add to our lives even than formerly. No parent who gets away with the job can be an egotist, a neurotic, narrow, vain or weak. No parent with any mind at all can help feeling close to the springs of life, and in touch with the cradle of the race. The same extended reality may be obtained by teachers, or by others in helpful and steady contact with the young, but the person on whom the children make none of their confident demands, whom they never consult about the rules of life and the opening wonders of nature, is all too likely, as he grows old, to lose the youthfulness that stays with the fortunate to the end.—Norman Hapgood in Heart's International.

Poetic Language

How then do we distinguish poetic language? The fact is, I think, that there is no hard and fast distinction. It has often been asserted that by poetic language we mean the presence of metre. Now, as we shall see, metre is, beyond doubt, the kind of rhythm most suitable as a rule for the purposes of poetry. But metre is simply one of the devices available to poetic expression; and if it happens that some other kind of rhythm will do just as well or better, and if everything else we require is there, it seems merely arbitrary to withhold the title of poetry. A definition of poetry would surely look very foolish, if it would exclude the "English Versions of Job" or the "Song of Songs."—Lascelles Abercrombie, in "The Theory of Poetry."

To Withstand Cold

The tiny needles of evergreens have a different appearance in winter and are darker and more shriveled. The chlorophyll granules have withdrawn from the surface as far as possible, and the water content is greatly reduced, says Nature Magazine of Washington. In this condition the alternate freezing and thawing of winter days seem to do no harm, and the leaves are ready in the spring to resume their work of starch making. But even evergreen needles do not live long. They die and drop as new ones come, and the average tree has its needles replaced in from three to five years. So gradual is this process, however, that the tree always appears to be well clothed.

Comments on New High School

The citizens and taxpayers of this city are indebted to F. M. Hagberg, a member of the Board of Education, and one who knows what he is talking about, for frankly giving out some true facts regarding the new high school building situation. In effect, he says that, in his opinion, a new high school building is not needed, and to build one at this time will mean a WASTE OF PUBLIC MONEY, and tells why. He requested Mr. Cobb, superintendent of city schools, and one of the principal promoters of the new high school building plan, to answer several questions. Mr. Cobb attempted to do so in your paper last Saturday. Now, if any citizen or taxpayer, after reading Mr. Hagberg's article, is still in doubt whether to vote against the bond issue, I feel quite sure that after reading Mr. Cobb's explanation as to why one should vote for the bond issue, he will surely vote against it. If Mr. Cobb's ideas are carried through and this new high school building is constructed it will mean that the taxpayers of this city will find themselves with a million dollar school debt on their hands.

In the first place, the proposal to buy a whole city block for the proposed new high school building is a ridiculous proposal. In this small city where the school district owns more property than any city of the state twice its size, buying an entire block of ground and thus taking it off the tax rolls when this city is so much in need of taxable property. There is so much public property in this city now that to add more means an ever increasing tax burden to property owners and home owners which they may soon be unable to bear. The fact that the school district gets some financial returns from the state each year because of the railroad properties located here really means nothing because of the requirements to be met in order to get it. Besides the bill or law is wrong. The school district is not entitled to all this money returned by the state. Part of it should go to the city. But of course leave it to the school district. Under the guise of "For school purposes," they can get away with anything. School boards are the most extravagant bodies in the country, and Brainerd is not an exception.

The adult as well as school population is decreasing in this city, and unless there is a disposition on the part of those who are able to do so, to help build up the city, it will continue to decrease, certainly it will not increase. It is a well known fact that there are persons who are willing to come into this city and make an investment of $250,000 in the shape of a new fire-proof hotel building and equipment, furnishing an operator, providing some encouragement is given in this city—the Gateway of Minnesota's 10,000 Lakes, to those gentlemen. It means more to this city that is catering to the tourists than anything I know of. It means also more taxes coming into the treasury. Yet those who are strongly boosting the new high school building which means a heavy burden to the taxpayers will offer no word of encouragement to those strangers who are willing to invest in Brainerd and pay taxes on that investment.

Of course those who are going to derive a financial benefit from the building of a new high school and the purchasing of an entire city block can well afford to boost but it is up to the home owners and taxpayers in general and to citizens who do not desire to pay increased rent to VOTE AGAINST THE PROPOSED BOND ISSUE. If this bond issue goes through and Mr. Cobb's plan is carried through every home owner will be paying a pretty good rental in the shape of taxes for the privilege of living in his own home.

GEORGE H. GARDNER.

To the taxpayers and voters of the city of Brainerd, Minnesota:

Do you know that J. H. Warner, who is a candidate for judge of the municipal court of this city for the city election on April 7th, 1925, is attorney of record for Mrs. W. H. Crowell against the city of Brainerd for $30,000.00 for personal injuries? The summons and complaint in this matter is now in the hands of the city attorney.

Mr. Warner now asks the voters of this city to elect him to a city office when he is trying to secure a judgment against the taxpayers of the city in the sum of $30,000.00.

It certainly cannot be ethical and furthermore it is unfair to the taxpayers and voters.

FACTS CONCERNING BRAINERD

The following facts about Brainerd taken from the latest published report of the Minnesota tax commission for the year 1924, are of interest to the voter in making a decision on the proposition of issuing bonds for school purposes:

Population—12th city in size, according to last census.

In taxable valuation—27th in order.

Per capita valuation—$318, only one other city of the cities of 5,000 population and over being as low as that of Brainerd.

Per capita levy for city purposes—$6.95, smallest of all cities of over 5,000 inhabitants; the average being $29.95; and only five cities in Minnesota of over 2,500 population having a smaller levy, out of 59 cities.

Per capita levy for city and schools—$20.46, only one other city of more than 5,000 inhabitants, 27 in number, having a lower levy.

Total tax rate for all purposes—90 mills, seven other cities of upward of 5,000 inhabitants having a higher rate, and the 27 cities having an average rate of 81.3 mills.

The average local tax lavy in mills for maintainence for the 242 high school districts and 268 graded school districts in Minnesota, as reported by the county auditors to the state department of education, was 34.8 mills. The average for Crow Wing county, six school districts, 39.28.

Out of 21 cities, ranging in size from 4,000 and up, receiving special aid from the state for the year 1923, including Albert Lea, Brainerd, Cloquet, Red Wing, Stillwater, Moorhead, New Ulm, Northfield, Fergus Falls, Bemidji, Crosby-Ironton, and others, Brainerd received $58,330.44, $18,000 more than any other city of the 21 and about $30,000 more than the average received by the others.

REGIONAL MEET OF BOY SCOUTS

To be Held at the Hotel Nicollet, Minneapolis, on Tuesday, April 7th

BOY PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

Crosby, Deerwood, Ironton, Pequot, Hubert, Brainerd Representatives at Convention

A number of men representing institutions interested in boy welfare and Boy Scout work of Crow Wing county will be delegates to a regional convention which will be held at the Hotel Nicollet, Minneapolis, on Tuesday, April 7th.

These men represent the Boy troops in the county, the commercial clubs of Crosby, Deerwood, Ironton, Pequot and Hubert. There will also be representatives from the Brainerd Rotary and Lions clubs.

It is planned to leave on Tuesday morning in time to arrive in Minneapolis about noon. The morning session of the convention will be of a routine nature, and will not be of great interest locally. The afternoon and evening sessions and the program at the banquet will be of exceptional interest, it is felt.

James West promises a very interesting discussion of boy problems in relation to their community. Mr. West is known as the "Chief of the Boy Scout Movement," having been its regional executive since its organization fifteen years ago. His contribution to the convention program is sure to be of the utmost value "Problems Facing Scout Men."

There will be many other important men on the program, including General George E. Leach, Mayor of Minneapolis; H. F. Pote, regional Scout executive; Hon. Theodore Christianson, governor of Minnesota, and Edward Flynn, district governor, Rotary International.

Minneapolis is doing herself proud in entertaining the visitors. Nearly $1,000 has been raised for the banquet at the Hotel Nicollet, to be given complimentary to the delegates on Tuesday evening.

The delegation from Crow Wing county expects to return on Wednesday morning.

Put Naturalist Down as "Poor Innocent"

The patient devotion of the naturalist to observations that seem to the ignorant onlooker trifling and meaningless often creates in the minds of those onlookers a reasonable doubt of the scientific man's sanity. In the "Human Side of Fabre," by Mr. P. F. Bicknell, there is an amusing incident in point that the great French naturalist was himself fond of relating.

Ever since daybreak, he says, I had been sitting in watchful waiting on a stone at the bottom of a ravine. The digger wasp of Languedoc was the subject of my morning's study. Three women, grape-pickers, passed me on their way to the vineyards. Glancing at the man sitting there apparently lost in thought, they gave him a polite good morning, which he as politely returned. At sunset the same three grape-pickers passed again on their homeward way with their heaped-up baskets on their heads. The man was still there, sitting on the same stone; his eyes were turned upon the same spot.

My immobile attitude and my long-continued station on the one spot all alone must have struck them as something extraordinary. As they passed me I saw one of them touch her forehead with her finger, and I heard her whisper to the others in their patois: "A poor innocent. Oh, poor man!"

Then they all three crossed themselves.

An innocent she had called me, an innocent—that is, an idiot, a poor devil, having less but bereft of his reason—and they had all three made the sign of the cross for in their eyes an idiot was marked with the seal of God.—Youth's Companion.

A Service That "Works"

The service rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a service that "works"—under all conditions and in all seasons.

It "works" because this Company is scientifically progressive—because it creates wealth, constructs, builds. It "works" because this Company is inspired by the incentive to earn fair profits only, through honest, earnest and abundant service.

When automobiles were few, small refining companies could produce all the gasoline and oils needed. Efficiency was not essential, for petroleum in all forms was a drug on the market.

Now, when the highways swarm with 17¾ million cars, efficiency is imperative. Only an organization as great in purpose as it is vast in scope can hope to supply the demands made upon it for oil products.

These millions of motorists want fuel—they need gasoline of standard, uniform quality. They expect to find it at every crossroad and at a low price.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has set for itself the job of supplying the gasoline and oils needed by these millions of motorists in the Middle West. No excuse for a delay here or a breakdown there ever is offered.

Motorists never are told that they cannot have gasoline because the refineries cannot produce it, or the distribution system has failed to function.

No matter what the drawbacks, the service of this Company "works"—year in and year out.

No nation can hope to hold its own in our modern, highly complex civilization without a great industrial system, based on reasonable rewards for honest service.

Only such a system develops great organizations—of which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is typical—which will work on the enormous scale required to the distinct advantage of society.

Per capita school district levy—$13.51, only four cities of upward of 5,000 inhabitants having a lower school levy per capita, and the average levy for the 27 cities being $25.45.

Per capita levy for city and schools—$20.46, only one other city of more than 5,000 inhabitants, 27 in number, having a lower levy.

Total tax rate for all purposes—90 mills, seven other cities of upward of 5,000 inhabitants having a higher rate, and the 27 cities having an average rate of 81.3 mills.

The average local tax lavy in mills for maintainence for the 242 high school districts and 268 graded school districts in Minnesota, as reported by the county auditors to the state department of education, was 34.8 mills. The average for Crow Wing county, six school districts, 39.28.

Out of 21 cities, ranging in size from 4,000 and up, receiving special aid from the state for the year 1925, including Albert Lea, Brainerd, Cloquet, Red Wing, Stillwater, Moorhead, New Ulm, Northfield, Fergus Falls, Bemidji, Crosby-Ironton, and others, Brainerd received $58,330.44, $18,000 more than any other city of the 21 and about $30,000 more than the average received by the others.

REGIONAL MEET OF BOY SCOUTS

To be Held at the Hotel Nicollet, Minneapolis, on Tuesday, April 7th

BOY PROBLEMS DISCUSSED

Crosby, Deerwood, Ironton, Pequot, Hubert, Brainerd Representatives at Convention

A number of men representing institutions interested in boy welfare and Boy Scout work of Crow Wing county will be delegates to a regional convention which will be held at the Hotel Nicollet, Minneapolis, on Tuesday, April 7th.

These men represent the Boy troops in the county, the commercial clubs of Crosby, Deerwood, Ironton, Pequot and Hubert. There will also be representatives from the Brainerd Rotary and Lions clubs.

It is planned to leave on Tuesday morning in time to arrive in Minneapolis about noon. The morning session of the convention will be of a routine nature, and will not be of great interest locally. The afternoon and evening sessions and the program at the banquet will be of exceptional interest, it is felt.

James West promises a very interesting discussion of boy problems in relation to their community. Mr. West is known as the "Chief of the Boy Scout Movement," having been its regional executive since its organization fifteen years ago. His contribution to the convention program is sure to be of the utmost value "Problems Facing Scout Men."

There will be many other important men on the program, including General George E. Leach, Mayor of Minneapolis; H. F. Pote, regional Scout executive; Hon. Theodore Christianson, governor of Minnesota, and Edward Flynn, district governor, Rotary International.

Minneapolis is doing herself proud in entertaining the visitors. Nearly $1,000 has been raised for the banquet at the Hotel Nicollet, to be given complimentary to the delegates on Tuesday evening.

The delegation from Crow Wing county expects to return on Wednesday morning.

Put Naturalist Down as "Poor Innocent"

The patient devotion of the naturalist to observations that seem to the ignorant onlooker trifling and meaningless often creates in the minds of those onlookers a reasonable doubt of the scientific man's sanity. In the "Human Side of Fabre," by Mr. P. F. Bicknell, there is an amusing incident in point that the great French naturalist was himself fond of relating.

Ever since daybreak, he says, I had been sitting in watchful waiting on a stone at the bottom of a ravine. The digger wasp of Languedoc was the subject of my morning's study. Three women, grape-pickers, passed me on their way to the vineyards. Glancing at the man sitting there apparently lost in thought, they gave him a polite good morning, which he as politely returned. At sunset the same three grape-pickers passed again on their homeward way with their heaped-up baskets on their heads. The man was still there, sitting on the same stone; his eyes were turned upon the same spot.

My immobile attitude and my long-continued station on the one spot all alone must have struck them as something extraordinary. As they passed me I saw one of them touch her forehead with her finger, and I heard her whisper to the others in their patois: "A poor innocent. Oh, poor man!"

Then they all three crossed themselves.

An innocent she had called me, an innocent—that is, an idiot, a poor devil, harmless but bereft of his reason—and they had all three made the sign of the cross for in their eyes an idiot was marked with the seal of God.—Youth's Companion.

Roman Chair of State

The curule chair was a chair of state, equivalent to a throne, in use among the early Romans. The chair was usually ornamented with ivory or gold, had curved legs, but no back, and could be folded as a camp stool is folded. It was used by curule magistrates, dictators, consuls, praetors and curule aediles on formal occasions. The right to sit in the presence of others was one of the precious privileges of certain officers.

A Service That "Works"

The service rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is a service that "works"—under all conditions and in all seasons.

It "works" because this Company is scientifically progressive—because it creates wealth, constructs, builds. It "works" because this Company is inspired by the incentive to earn fair profits only, through honest, earnest and abundant service.

When automobiles were few, small refining companies could produce all the gasoline and oils needed. Efficiency was not essential, for petroleum in all forms was a drug on the market.

Now, when the highways swarm with 17¾ million cars, efficiency is imperative. Only an organization as great in purpose as it is vast in scope can hope to supply the demands made upon it for oil products.

These millions of motorists want fuel—they need gasoline of standard, uniform quality. They expect to find it at every crossroad and at a low price.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has set for itself the job of supplying the gasoline and oils needed by these millions of motorists in the Middle West. No excuse for a delay here or a breakdown there ever is offered.

Motorists never are told that they cannot have gasoline because the refineries cannot produce it, or the distribution system has failed to function.

No matter what the drawbacks, the service of this Company "works"—year in and year out.

No nation can hope to hold its own in our modern, highly complex civilization without a great industrial system, based on reasonable rewards for honest service.

Only such a system develops great organizations—of which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is typical—which will work on the enormous scale required to the distinct advantage of society.

MINNESOTA FIRE LOSSES

ACCORDING to a report compiled by the national board of fire underwriters, matches and smoking were chiefly responsible for a loss by fire of $10,556,369 in Minnesota during the year of 1923. Minnesota ranked eleventh of the 48 states in the amount of fire loss. The total for the United States was the huge sum of $535,372,782.

Carelessness, we think, is the chief cause of fires, for "matches-smoking" inflicted damage amounting to $1,009,218 in Minnesota. Next as a cause came "stoves, furnaces, boilers and their pipes," with $808,062. Spontaneous combustion, another careless center when it emanates from greasy rags and negligent cleaning up of manufacturing premises, permitting dust, etc., to accumulate, is charged with a fire loss of $666,372. All three of these causes are classified as preventable or partly preventable.

The losses incurred in Minnesota can be visualized when one considers that the board of underwriters points out that had the loss sustained by fire in Minnesota been turned into use, instead of smoke, the state could have built no fewer than 105 modern, fire-resisting school houses, at an individual cost of $110,000.

RAIL EARNINGS SHOW BETTER BUSINESS

IT is gratifying to read that northwest railroad earnings, submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission, reflect improved trade conditions in this territory compared with a year ago. It is the basis for the progostication that the business throughout 1925 will exceed that of 1924.

We are particularly interested in the Northern Pacific railway company, which has its large shops here. The shops, in a way, reflect conditions on the road. If there is much freight traffic and passenger travel, the work of repair and maintenance continues in a steadily increasing stream.

Northern Pacific operating income for February was some decrease over that of February, 1924. Operating expenses, however, were $5,240,594, a decrease of $268,195.

A comprehensive improvement policy has been enunciated by the Northern Pacific railway company and Brainerd shares in this by reconditioning and making ready for service 200 or more work train cars.

ALL AROUND TRAINING

ERNEST THAELMANN, Communist presidential candidate, of Germany, may be what is termed an all-around candidate. His youth covered apprenticeship in various trades and crafts. For instance he was a fairly good prize fighter, a hustling longshoreman, teamster and sailor and to crown it all, he had a "close-up" of the United States by being a "hobo" and "riding the rods and bumpers."

As a sample of his resourcefulness, he arrived at Hoboken, N. J., as a sailor and being "broke," beat his way from the coast to Chicago.

The apprenticeship of Mr. Thaelmann gives him that insight in life which removes the veneer of false civilization, shows things as they are, and impresses one with the realties of life. As a rough and tumble debater, he ought to be supreme.

EARTHQUAKE PREDICTION CAME TRUE

THE DISPATCH published an unusual news item Saturday evening, predicting that North and Central America were to be visited by earth tremors. An earth tremor is the polite way to allude to a mild earthquake.

Professor Bendandi, seismologist, made the prediction from his laboratory situated at Faenza, Italy. Of course, with so much territory included in the prediction, it was hard for the professor to localize the disturbance, but nevertheless, his prediction came true by occurring Sunday afternoon.

He further predicted an earthquake for the Far East, to occur tonight. As a forecaster, the professor takes first rank in his chosen field and his observations are now given the widest attention and publicity.

SALARY BILLS

BILLS asking for salary increases of probate judges and other officers have invariably been vetoed by the governor. We refer to the recent experience of St. Louis county.

The governor may have viewed with some satisfaction a new kind of a bill emanating from Morrison county which sought a salary reduction of county officials and was signed by the chief executive. It is expected to save Morrison county between $8,000 and $10,000 a year.

THE ROADBED OF THE BUSSES

RAILWAY trains have very little trouble with their roadbeds, but the busses depending on highways, sometimes have their schedules disarranged. For instance the Duluth route from Brainerd has soft spots and three-ton trucks were ordered off the highway, between Brainerd and Carlton.

The busses, however, will no doubt continue their schedules by resorting to the use of touring cars to haul their passengers. It will mean added expense but will be necessary if they wish to maintain organization and business.

THESE significant claims for Bemidji are made by George W. Empey, secretary of the Bemidji Civic and Commerce Association: "Bemidji stands out pre-eminent among the cities of Minnesota and the Northwest, as being able to enlist in community work a larger proportion of its entire population, perhaps, than any other city."

SENATOR FRANK B. WILLIS of Ohio is an early bird. He has commenced his campaign to win the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1928.

Roosevelt's Idea of Man

It is not the critic who counts, nor the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena; whose face is marred by dust and sweat; who strives valiantly; who errs and may fail again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming, but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who does know the great enthusiasm, the great devotion; who spends himself in a worthy cause, who, at the best, knows in the end the triumph of high achievement and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.—Theodore Roosevelt.

Model Lover a Bricklayer

Common brick has always played an important part in the building industries throughout the world. Volumes have been written on the history and uses to which bricks have been put, but not on their romance, says the New York Herald-Tribune.

In the Italian city of Bologna there remain two towers of brick, sole survivors of approximately 180 similar ones said to have been erected between the Tenth and Thirteenth centuries. Legends say it was the custom to knights to win their ladies fair by erecting brick towers, taller than the one constructed by rivals.

Famous Group of Stars

The Pleiades is a group of small stars in the constellation Taurus, very conspicuous on winter evenings about 24 degrees north of the equator. For some unknown reason there were anciently said to be seven Pleiades, although only six were conspicuous then as now; hence the suggestion of a lost Pleiad. In mythology the Pleiades were said to be the daughters of Atlas and Pleione, and were named Alcyone, Merope, Celaeno, Electra, Sterope or Asterope, Taygeta and Maia.

No Change in Status

A man ran away with the wife of a neighbor. The local clergyman called upon the deserted husband to attempt to console him, but the man seemed singularly cheerful considering the nature of his loss.

"It's too bad; too bad!" said the clergyman. "I understand that the man who persuaded your wife to elope with him was your best friend."

The husband smiled.

"Yes," he said, "he was—and he is!"

Evolution of Trombone

The trombone, from the Italian "tromba," a trumpet, was formerly called the sackbut, and is a brass instrument, of uncertain invention and epoch, though it appears in a manuscript of the Ninth century, preserved at Boulogne, as a drawing bearing a great resemblance to the trombone of today without its bell.—Music World.

Variety of Food in China

Vegetables are used much more freely by the Chinese people than by the Americans. In addition to the common ones, such as potatoes, spinach, cabbage, radishes, and the like, many plants and weeds are eaten which are not usually considered as food in America. Thus radish leaves, shepherd's purses, bamboo sprouts and a large number of seaweeds are used as food.

MADE THEIR HOMES IN NEW AMSTERDAM

Eastern Metropolis Founded by Mixed Company.

In 1923, January 15, a bill was introduced in the house of representatives authorizing the "coinage of 50-cent pieces in honor of the three-hundredth anniversary of the settling of New Netherland, the middle states, in 1624, by Walloons (French and Belgian Huguenots), under the Dutch East India company," writes Anna Curtis Chandler in St. Nicholas. This bill was passed, and 300,000 50-cent pieces were coined, just as coins were provided for the Pilgrim celebration. On one side of the Huguenot half-dollar appear the faces of two of their strong supporters; on the other side, the ship in which they sailed, Nieu Nederland.

The settlement of the New Netherland was claimed by the Dutch republic because of Henry Hudson's explorations in the Half Moon, in 1609. Although an Englishman, he was in the service of the Dutch East India company. In the ship which arrived in 1624 were 32 families, mostly Walloons who had found a refuge in Holland from religious persecution in their home countries. Led by Jesse de Forest, from Avesnes, France, an ancestor of Robert D. de Forest, president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, they, in 1623, like the Pilgrims before them, had started out to find new homes in the New world. The leader perished on the voyage, but in May, 1624, their ship, the Nieu Nederland, reached the Hudson river.

Some of the settlers went to Fort Orange, now called Albany, others went to Delaware and to Connecticut, while some stayed on Manhattan island and helped found the settlement which in 1626 was called New Amsterdam, in honor of the Dutch city of Amsterdam, and today is New York, named after James, duke of York, the "Baby Stuart" of Van Dyck's famous painting.

Henry Hudson wanted to find for the East India company a shorter way from Holland to the East Indies than that around Africa by way of the Cape of Good Hope. When he sailed up the Hudson river he thought he had found the passage which led to India, and perhaps even to the great khan whom Marco Polo met in his travels and Christopher Columbus expected to find! He was greatly disappointed; but because of the furs which could be obtained on the newly found island of Manhattan, some merchants of Holland formed the United New Netherland company, and a house was built for fur traders, near what is now Bowling Green park, and was called Fort Manhattan. So rich was the new country in furs that another company was founded in Holland, called the West India company, to trade with the West Indies, as the East India company traded with the East Indies, and this was the company which decided to make a city out of the little trading post on Manhattan island.

It was the Dutch government which carried out the colonizing of New Netherland, the name given the new settlements along the shores of what are now New Jersey, Connecticut and New York state. But among these colonists who helped settle New Netherland, were English, French Huguenots and Walloons—which meant "strangers."

It seems queer to think that our mighty city of New York—the metropolis of the New world, and the largest city in the world—began in such a small way. But it did. If Peter Minuit, the first Dutch governor of New Amsterdam, or Peter Stuyvesant, its last Dutch governor, could return today, after almost 300 years, he would be so astonished that he would think he was in an enchanted land of giants whose buildings seem to touch the sky.

"Daddy's Gone a-Hunting" Proves Delightful Entertainment of Screen

Another noted stage success has been brought to the screen with realism and great dramatic force. This time it is "Daddy's Gone a-Hunting," the play by Zoe Akins in which Marjorie Rambeau won fame, which opened at the Lyceum Theatre yesterday.

In being transferred to the screen none of the strength of this drama has been lost, and much has been added in way of color and lavish beauty.

Alice Joyce, more lovely than when she retired from the screen four years ago, has the role of Edith. It is her second characterization since returning to pictures and will win for her a host of new admirers.

This exceptional picture has its last showings at the Lyceum tonight.

Wild Creatures Die Fast When Captives

The average person who visits a zoo for study and enjoyment often fails to realize the expert care and heavy expenditure demanded in its upkeep. Death takes a frequent toll among the animals and the birth rate cannot begin to make replacement. The four corners of the earth must be scoured or many an empty cage would confront visitors, says the New York Times.

Every month a proportion of the familiar animals die, and rare beasts and birds with strange names also succumb. Every month purchases are made that may range from 25 cents for a box tortoise to $900 for a pair of Gelada baboons.

Usually the highest mortality is among the birds. Next come the mammals, the severest financial loss. Reptile casualties are lowest. A report of the Bronx zoological park shows the death of twelve mammals, including a bonnet macaque and a white-faced sapajou, of three reptiles, crocodile and two tortoises and fifty birds in a single month. However, the increasing skill of curators and keepers in the handling of wild animals is keeping the death rate within bounds.

Many Poisonous Fish in the Philippines

Fish with poisonous flesh are a danger to be reckoned with by dwellers and travelers in the Philippine tropics. Dr. Albert M. Herre of the bureau of science at Manila has investigated the reports that there are poisonous fishes in the islands and states that in many cases they are true. According to Doctor Herre, the most violently poisonous species belong to the puffers and porcupine fishes. The poisonous property is due to the presence in various parts of their bodies of a substance chemically similar to the deadliest of the mushroom poisons. "The poisonous quality of these fishes is well known to all the tribes dwelling along tropical coasts," says Doctor Herre, "but strange to say there is hardly a fishing village in the Philippines where there are not foolish or reckless people who eat these fishes. Not a year goes by without several deaths. The poison seems to act first on the nerves of the alimentary canal, and soon afterward on all the muscles of the body, giving rise to violent spasms, during which the patient dies in from one to five hours."

Gloria Swanson and Ben Lyon in the Paramount Pictu "Wages of Virtue" An Allan Dwan Production

Another "Movie Moore"

Joe Moore, youngest of the four Moore brothers who have been so well represented on the screen by Owen, Tom and Matt, makes his debut in Paramount pictures in support of Gloria Swanson in her new Allan Dwan production, "Wages of Virtue," coming to the New Park on Tuesday and Wednesday. He has the role of a New York gunman—soldier of the French Foreign Legion.

Ben Lyon plays opposite Miss Swanson in the picture and Norman Trevor, Ivan Linow and others well known on both stage and screen play in support.

The production is a fine action-romance with Gloria in her finest role.

"The Chorus Lady" Ideal Picture for Miss Livingstone

In choosing for red-headed Margaret Livingstone such a story as "The Chorus Lady," Regal Pictures felt that they were giving the young player a story particularly fitted to her personality.

"The Chorus Lady," which comes to the Lyceum Theatre for a two day run Tuesday, is adapted by Bradley King from the James Forbes play of the same name. It deals with the life of an Irish show girl. Its locale alternates between the race track and the stage.

Pat O'Brien, played by Margaret Livingstone, is a happy-go-lucky beauty, full of fun and fight. Virginia Lee Corbin plays the little sister for whom Pat sacrifices much.

There is fast action in "The Chorus Lady." It is a natural story. Pat is no angel. She is slangy, hot tempered, and likes her revenge—but withal she is most lovable. In other words, her virtues overbalance her faults and make us forget them.

No Sets Used in Photoplay With Wonder Dog at New Park Last Time Tonight

Among many of the unusual features, incorporated in "Find Your Man," the Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen, featuring Rin-Tin-Tin, the wonder dog, not the least interesting is the fact that no "sets" were used. All the action takes place in the wilds of Oregon.

Rin-Tin-Tin, it will be remembered, is the wonderful dog actor who made such a hit in "Where the North Begins," thrilling old and young by his leaps and jumps of incredible power.

June Marlowe, known as the girl with the soulful eyes, as well as for her talent, has the leading role among the human players. Pat Hartigan is the villain. Others are Eric St. Clair, Charles Mailes, Fred Stanton, Lew Harvey and Charles Conklin.

MADE THEIR HOMES IN NEW AMSTERDAM

Eastern Metropolis Founded by Mixed Company.

In 1923, January 15, a bill was introduced in the house of representatives authorizing the "coinage of 50-cent pieces in honor of the three-hundredth anniversary of the settling of New Netherland, the middle states, in 1624, by Walloons (French and Belgian Huguenots), under the Dutch East India company," writes Anna Curtis Chandler in St. Nicholas. This bill was passed, and 300,000 50-cent pieces were coined, just as coins were provided for the Pilgrim celebration. On one side of the Huguenot half-dollar appear the faces of two of their strong supporters; on the other side, the ship in which they sailed, Nieu Nederland.

The settlement of the New Netherland was claimed by the Dutch republic because of Henry Hudson's explorations in the Half Moon, in 1609. Although an Englishman, he was in the service of the Dutch East India company. In the ship which arrived in 1624 were 32 families, mostly Walloons who had found a refuge in Holland from religious persecution in their home countries. Led by Jesse de Forest, from Avesnes, France, an ancestor of Robert D. de Forest, president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, they, in 1623, like the Pilgrims before them, had started out to find new homes in the New world. CHAPMAN IS CHARGED WITH KILLING POLICE

ONLY EYE WITNESS, A BROTHER POLICEMAN, GIVES TESTIMONY

SAYS BANDIT FIRED 3 SHOTS AND SKELLY WAS THE VICTIM

(By United Press)

Hartford, Conn., March 30.—Gerald Chapman was named today by the only eye witness to the shooting of Policeman James Skelly of New Britain as the man who did the killing.

Policeman Alfred Atwater of New Britain was the witness.

Atwater described going to the scene of the robbery which preceded the shooting.

"We went down the alley," he testified. "Skelly was behind me as we entered the building. I went in first and as I did that man there"—and Atwater pointed to Chapman, who was sititng hunched down in his chair with his eyes fixed on the witness—"pulled out his gun and fired three shots. He said, 'Put up your hands or I'll shoot,' and then he shot."

Persian Rug Classed as Work of Real Art

A truly unique piece of oriental work is Persia's wonderful "Coronation" rug. It embraces a pictorial record of Persia's rulers from times antedating the Christian era to the time of the World war. Work upon the rug was started in 1906 and went on until it was completed. It was to have glorified the crowning of the sultan Ahmed Mirza, on the occasion of his expected ascension to the throne of Persia, but was diverted mysteriously to New York. Moving like the enchanted carpet, it was spirited 6,000 miles to that modern Bagdad. The rug is a multicolored one, is 16 feet long by 11 feet wide, and was specially woven during the period of 17 years, being the handiwork of the 27 most famous rug makers then living in Persia. With remarkable fidelity to features and absolute verity to costume of the time of each individual depicted, this rug represents the portrait of 160 of Persia's great kings, or shahs, and is otherwise highly decorated. There are 1,000 knots to each square inch, or about 25,300,000 knots tied to the linen warp threads to produce the wool nap that forms the velvety body and creates the portrait and decorative features.

The Case of Burma-Vita Vs. Rheumatic Pain

Rub lame spot 5 to 8 minutes with Burma-Vita, then apply bath towel soaked in hot water and wrung out. The moist heat vaporizes Burma-Vita causing it to penetrate deep down to seat of pain. The combination of the hot towel and Burma-Vita produces the most tremendous reaction without injury or blistering to the most delicate skin. It goes in deep; many wake up the next morning with the pain and soreness all gone. In leading sanitariums and athletic clubs and wherever used, Burma-Vita is replacing old style greasy liniments. Most expensive to manufacture; it is priced very low. Take no substitutes, insist on Burma-Vita. Druggists, standard size 50c; extra large, $1.00.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Advt.

CHAPMAN IS CHARGED WITH KILLING POLICE

ONLY EYE WITNESS, A BROTHER POLICEMAN, GIVES TESTIMONY

SAYS BANDIT FIRED 3 SHOTS AND SKELLY WAS THE VICTIM

(By United Press)

Hartford, Conn., March 30.—Gerald Chapman was named today by the only eye witness to the shooting of Policeman James Skelly of New Britain as the man who did the killing.

Policeman Alfred Atwater of New Britain was the witness.

Atwater described going to the scene of the robbery which preceded the shooting.

"We went down the alley," he testified. "Skelly was behind me as we entered the building. I went in first and as I did that man there"—and Atwater pointed to Chapman, who was sititng hunched down in his chair with his eyes fixed on the witness—"pulled out his gun and fired three shots. He said, 'Put up your hands or I'll shoot,' and then he shot."

Persian Rug Classed as Work of Real Art

A truly unique piece of oriental work is Persia's wonderful "Coronation" rug. It embraces a pictorial record of Persia's rulers from times antedating the Christian era to the time of the World war. Work upon the rug was started in 1906 and went on until it was completed. It was to have glorified the crowning of the sultan Ahmed Mirza, on the occasion of his expected ascension to the throne of Persia, but was diverted mysteriously to New York. Moving like the enchanted carpet, it was spirited 6,000 miles to that modern Bagdad. The rug is a multicolored one, is 16 feet long by 11 feet wide, and was specially woven during the period of 17 years, being the handiwork of the 27 most famous rug makers then living in Persia. With remarkable fidelity to features and absolute verity to costume of the time of each individual depicted, this rug represents the portrait of 160 of Persia's great kings, or shahs, and is otherwise highly decorated. There are 1,000 knots to each square inch, or about 25,300,000 knots tied to the linen warp threads to produce the wool nap that forms the velvety body and creates the portrait and decorative features.

The Case of Burma-Vita Vs. Rheumatic Pain

Rub lame spot 5 to 8 minutes with Burma-Vita, then apply bath towel soaked in hot water and wrung out. The moist heat vaporizes Burma-Vita causing it to penetrate deep down to seat of pain. The combination of the hot towel and Burma-Vita produces the most tremendous reaction without injury or blistering to the most delicate skin. It goes in deep; many wake up the next morning with the pain and soreness all gone. In leading sanitariums and athletic clubs and wherever used, Burma-Vita is replacing old style greasy liniments. Most expensive to manufacture; it is priced very low. Take no substitutes, insist on Burma-Vita. Druggists, standard size 50c; extra large, $1.00.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Advt.

ALFALFA GOOD CROP IN COUNTY

Acreage to be Largely Increased, and County Agent Makes Suggestions

LAND AND SOIL CONSIDERED

Soil Testing, Preparation, Time of Planting Are Elucidated

Alfalfa has proven to be such a successful crop in Crow Wing county and the acreage here is to be increased to such an extent this season, that County Agent E. G. Roth is offering the following helpful suggestions, that will aid the farmer who has already had experience with the crop and the one is entirely unfamiliar with it:

1. Lay of Land—Alfalfa does best on well drained soil, that is, at least five feet before you reach standing water. Alfalfa does not do so well on low ground and therefore cannot be planted in meadows unless the water-level is 5 feet below the surface.

2. Soil—Any type of soil that we have in Crow Wing county will grow alfalfa providing it is not sour or acid.

3. If soil is sour or acid, marl or ground lime stone applied at the rate of two to four tons to the acre will sweeten this and alfalfa can be grown successfully.

4. Test Your Soil—Send a teaspoonful of your soil to the county agent from the land on which you expect to grow alfalfa. He will test it for you free of charge and will tell you whether the land is sour or acid. Find out if your soil is sweet.

5. Soil Preparation—Alfalfa does best on new ground and the better the soil the better crop of alfalfa can be expected. Alfalfa land should be free from weeds, should be well-plowed or planted on a field that had a cultivated crop the year before. This should be thoroughly disced and worked in the spring before planting as a good seed bed gives the best results. If the soil is very light, rolling it will give good results.

6.—Time to Plant—Any time from April 1st to July 15th. Get your land in good shape. Then put in your seed. Try to get it in the ground just before or during a rainy spell. Drill one and one-half inches deep in light soil and one inch in heavy soil.

7. Nurse Crop—A nurse crop of oats, wheat, barley or flax may be used if there is plenty of moisture available. The nurse crop should be planted thin and if dry weather threatens, cut off for hay so that there will be plenty of moisture for the young alfalfa plants. Alfalfa does best without a nurse crop, especially on the lighter soils. The middle of June is a good time to plant on the light soils without a nurse crop, working the land until then to kill any weeds and keep the moisture.

8. Inoculate Seed—Be sure that your seed is inoculated on fields that have never grown alfalfa before. This is important. I have sent for inoculation for every farmer that ordered seed and should reach you through the mail not later than April 30th. Follow the directions on the bottle. If this does not reach you in time, use dirt from an old alfalfa field. Take dirt near live, healthy plants. Screen the dirt through a sieve and mix the dry dirt and seed, using equal parts of each. This inoculates the seed throughly. In order to seed, open drill nearly twice as wide and you can seed readily.

9. Kind of Seed—Use only Grimm or Cossack seed as common varieties kill out in our cold winters.

GET CHAUTAUQUA FOR THE SEASON

James L. Loar Meets With the Local Chautauqua Officers and Committeemen Saturday

AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Program is Selected and Dates for Park Theatre Set for June 22 to 26 Inclusive

Brainerd is to have its Chautauqua season June 22 to 26, both inclusive, at the New Park theatre. The attractions decided on include a play company, three large musical organizations, several entertainers, humorists and lecturers. As showing the type of lecturer engaged, it may be mentioned that Rev. S. Parkes Cadman of Brooklyn is one of the speakers.

James L. Loar of the Independent Chautauqua company conferred with local officers and committee heads. He has been in the Chautauqua business for years and so is well versed in his subject and is always of great help in preparing a program.

Platform Manager Beechler last year conducted a wonderful advance sale of season tickets and Brainerd is thus well prepared to face the season. A further sale of season tickets is to be put on here some weeks before the Chautauqua date.

G. E. Lammon, former secretary of the local association, resigned because of leaving Brainerd. His resignation was accepted and Mrs. Ben S. Armstrong was elected to succeed him.

Local men will officiate as platform men four nights of the Chautauqua here, with Mr. Loar here on the last night.

S. E. BRAINERD CLUB REUNION

Letters Read From Members Now Living Out of Town, Reviving Pleasant Memories

SPECIAL DISPATCH EDITION

Latter, Dated Dec. 11, 1913, is Treasured in Archives of the Club

Twenty members of the former Southeast Brainerd club held a reunion on Saturday evening, March 28th, in the Scandia Co-operative Mercantile hall, corner Norwood and Thirteenth streets.

Letters were read from members now living out of town, and a Brainerd Dispatch, issue of December 11, 1913, which was a special club edition, carrying a large picture of the members and a story on the history of the organization. The Duluth News Tribune on the following day carried a full page story, with pictures, and a copy of this edition was also on display on Saturday evening.

The evening was spent in cards, reminiscences of bygone days, and planning for the future. A cafeteria luncheon was served consisting of Boston baked beans, parker house rolls, fruit salad, olives, pickles, cake, cookies and coffee, followed by cigars.

A committee was appointed to call a similar reunion once each year, that old acquaintances may be renewed and the organization kept together.

The Southeast Brainerd club was organized October 5th, 1911, and was active until November, 1923, when it was forced to disband because of its scattered membership. At the height of its prosperity there were 26 members, the club at that time occupying its own home on Oak street. Its members are now widely scattered, but all who live outside of Brainerd are anxious to keep in touch with the old organization and plan to be present for the next reunion.

WOOL GROWERS MEET WITH GREAT SUCCESS

The newly reorganized Minnesota Co-operative Wool Growers' association is meeting with splendid success in the various counties in which meetings have been held for the purpose of securing member contracts.

Alex Huddleston, president of the association, who is attending all these meetings, reports that more than 75 per cent of the growers present have signed the standard contract under the Minnesota co-operative law. Meetings were held during February in Pipestone, Murray, Lyon and Redwood counties. March meetings were scheduled in Goodhue, Steele, Waseca, Blue Earth, Brown, Nobles, Rock, Martin, Faribault, Freeborn and Mower counties while meetings have been arranged for early in April in Stevens, Wilkin, Ottertail, Wadena, Hubbard, Beltrami, Clearwater and Pennington counties.

General Manager R. E. Jones has just returned from the east where he has been studying the wool market. Mr. Jones and F. L. French, of the Farm Bureau, will attend the annual meeting of the South Dakota wool growers at Huron on March 26 for the purpose of arranging, if possible, for the marketing of the South Dakota clip through the Minnesota association.

ALFALFA GOOD CROP IN COUNTY

Acreage to be Largely Increased, and County Agent Makes Suggestions

LAND AND SOIL CONSIDERED

Soil Testing, Preparation, Time of Planting Are Elucidated

Alfalfa has proven to be such a successful crop in Crow Wing county and the acreage here is to be increased to such an extent this season, that County Agent E. G. Roth is offering the following helpful suggestions, that will aid the farmer who has already had experience with the crop and the one is entirely unfamiliar with it:

1. Lay of Land—Alfalfa does best on well drained soil, that is, at least five feet before you reach standing water. Alfalfa does not do so well on low ground and therefore cannot be planted in meadows unless the water-level is 5 feet below the surface.

2. Soil—Any type of soil that we have in Crow Wing county will grow alfalfa providing it is not sour or acid.

3. If soil is sour or acid, marl or ground lime stone applied at the rate of two to four tons to the acre will sweeten this and alfalfa can be grown successfully.

4. Test Your Soil—Send a teaspoonful of your soil to the county agent from the land on which you expect to grow alfalfa. He will test it for you free of charge and will tell you whether the land is sour or acid. Find out if your soil is sweet.

5. Soil Preparation—Alfalfa does best on new ground and the better the soil the better crop of alfalfa can be expected. Alfalfa land should be free from weeds, should be well-plowed or planted on a field that had a cultivated crop the year before. This should be thoroughly disced and worked in the spring before planting as a good seed bed gives the best results. If the soil is very light, rolling it will give good results.

6.—Time to Plant—Any time from April 1st to July 15th. Get your land in good shape. Then put in your seed. Try to get it in the ground just before or during a rainy spell. Drill one and one-half inches deep in light soil and one inch in heavy soil.

7. Nurse Crop—A nurse crop of oats, wheat, barley or flax may be used if there is plenty of moisture available. The nurse crop should be planted thin and if dry weather threatens, cut off for hay so that there will be plenty of moisture for the young alfalfa plants. Alfalfa does best without a nurse crop, especially on the lighter soils. The middle of June is a good time to plant on the light soils without a nurse crop, working the land until then to kill any weeds and keep the moisture.

8. Inoculate Seed—Be sure that your seed is inoculated on fields that have never grown alfalfa before. This is important. I have sent for inoculation for every farmer that ordered seed and should reach you through the mail not later than April 30th. Follow the directions on the bottle. If this does not reach you in time, use dirt from an old alfalfa field. Take dirt near live, healthy plants. Screen the dirt through a sieve and mix the dry dirt and seed, using equal parts of each. This inoculates the seed throughly. In order to seed, open drill nearly twice as wide and you can seed readily.

9. Kind of Seed—Use only Grimm or Cossack seed as common varieties kill out in our cold winters.

GET CHAUTAUQUA FOR THE SEASON

James L. Loar Meets With the Local Chautauqua Officers and Committeemen Saturday

AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Program is Selected and Dates for Park Theatre Set for June 22 to 26 Inclusive

Brainerd is to have its Chautauqua season June 22 to 26, both inclusive, at the New Park theatre. The attractions decided on include a play company, three large musical organizations, several entertainers, humorists and lecturers. As showing the type of lecturer engaged, it may be mentioned that Rev. S. Parker Cadman of Brooklyn is one of the speakers.

James L. Loar of the Independent Chautauqua company conferred with local officers and committee heads. He has been in the Chautauqua business for years and so is well versed in his subject and is always of great help in preparing a program.

Platform Manager Beechler last year conducted a wonderful advance sale of season tickets and Brainerd is thus well prepared to face the season. A further sale of season tickets is to be put on here some weeks before the Chautauqua date.

G. E. Lammon, former secretary of the local association, resigned because of leaving Brainerd. His resignation was accepted and Mrs. Ben S. Armstrong was elected to succeed him.

Local men will officiate as platform men four nights of the Chautauqua here, with Mr. Loar here on the last night.

S. E. BRAINERD CLUB REUNION

Letters Read From Members Now Living Out of Town, Reviving Pleasant Memories

SPECIAL DISPATCH EDITION

Latter, Dated Dec. 11, 1913, is Treasured in Archives of the Club

Twenty members of the former Southeast Brainerd club held a reunion on Saturday evening, March 28th, in the Scandia Co-operative Mercantile hall, corner Norwood and Thirteenth streets.

Letters were read from members now living out of town, and a Brainerd Dispatch, issue of December 11, 1913, which was a special club edition, carrying a large picture of the members and a story on the history of the organization. The Duluth News Tribune on the following day carried a full page story, with pictures, and a copy of this edition was also on display on Saturday evening.

The evening was spent in cards, reminiscences of bygone days, and planning for the future. A cafeteria luncheon was served consisting of Boston baked beans, parker house rolls, fruit salad, olives, pickles, cake, cookies and coffee, followed by cigars.

A committee was appointed to call a similar reunion once each year, that old acquaintances may be renewed and the organization kept together.

The Southeast Brainerd club was organized October 5th, 1911, and was active until November, 1923, when it was forced to disband because of its scattered membership. At the height of its prosperity there were 26 members, the club at that time occupying its own home on Oak street. Its members are now widely scattered, but all who live outside of Brainerd are anxious to keep in touch with the old organization and plan to be present for the next reunion.

ROOKIES HAVE LITTLE CHANCE IN NEW YORK

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 30.—Several years ago Johnny Mitchell was regarded as having the most stagnant job in baseball. He was the substitute shortstop with the New York Yankees and Deacon Scott, the regular shortstop, hadn't missed a single game in something like four years. It was a pipe as a lazy man's job, but it was a bad spot for a young player who had ambitions to get ahead in the game.

The role of an understudy is a good education when there is an occasional chance to work, but Mitchell had so much practice at watching Scott that it ruined him as a player and he was one of the most promising youngsters that had come up from the minor leagues. He kept up on his fielding, but he lost his batting eye in the shadow of the dugout.

Any rookie who is now grabbed in the minors by the New York Yankees or the New York Giants has an almost hopeless job to land even an upper berth as a substitute. There are no clubs in the major leagues where it is as difficult to displace a regular player as it is with the two New York clubs.

John McGraw hasn't a spot for the best player in the minor leagues and Miller Huggins couldn't use anything but a shortstop as good as Hans Wagner.

The Giant and Yankee managers were being congratulated this year over the fine collection of young players that their scouts had dug up last season, but there weren't any expressions of elation from them. They rather expected sympathy with the plea: "Now that we have 'em, what'll we do with 'em?"

McGraw has among the Giant regulars and substitutes the youngest infield in baseball and an outfield that is 15 years away from the antique state. In another year McGraw could use a young catcher in place of Frank Snyder and Hank Gowdy, but it should be years before he will have to look for some one to take the places of Bill Terry, Frankie Frisch, Travis Jackson, Freddy Lindstrom, Pep Young, Hack Wilson and Bill Southworth.

The Yankees can use a shortstop in another year but the other positions are in comparatively young hands. Wally Pipp is a veteran, but he is still a valuable player and Lou Gehrig, a player good enough to do regular duty with a dozen clubs, is ready for first base. Erin Ward and Joe Dugan have years ahead of them. The outfield is young and the catching staff, while rather worn, is still useful.

STATE'S DRAINAGE PROGRAM HIT BY WALTON LEAGUERS

POLICY DECLARED UNINTELLIGENT, HAPHAZARD AND MERCENARY

MANKATO CHAPTER ESPECIALLY STRONG IN ITS DENUNCIATION

(From St. Paul Daily News)

St. Paul, March 30.—An attack on Minnesota's drainage program was launched in the Izaak Walton league of Minnesota Saturday morning.

And from indications, this attack will elaborate itself into a full-grown finish fight before the convention session concludes.

Five of eight speakers on the morning program discussed different phases of the state program of drainage, and in the course of the remarks of the various speakers it was described as "vicious, unintelligent, haphazard and mercenary."

J. W. Schmidt, secretary of the Mankato chapter, Izaak Walton League of America, delivered the principal address on the subject.

Mr. Schmidt gained considerable note recently when he assisted in litigation which eventually reached the supreme court and which resulted in that body's decision against draining Lake Pleasant in southern Minnesota.

Dietrich Lange, president of the Minnesota chapter, Isaac Walton League of America, told the 60 odd delegates to the convention that "the subject of drainage is one of the most vital confronting sportsmen of the state today. It is vital not only from the sportsman's standpoint, but from every consideration of economy and sane judgment."

E. R. Ruggles, Osakis, led the discussion anent state drainage. Mr. Ruggles cited a concrete case of the partial drainage of Lake Osakis some few years ago. As a direct result of what he termed "this vicious, unintelligent and mercenary program," the entire countryside around Lake Osakis is suffering today.

"Some 60,000 acres were drained of their water supply at Osakis," Mr. Ruggles told the convention, "and after draining this vast tract not one single acre was suitable for agricultural use. In the face of this, there was refused a petition to construct at private cost a dam that would have kept Lake Osakis at its proper level. There is need for some state law that will permit a community to have drainage jurisdiction over the water bodies within the limits of that community," he said. He made a plea for some definite expression of the convention with reference to such a suggestion for state law.

E. E. Bowe, Waseca, followed Mr. Ruggles with a very similar paper. He cited the case of Lake Elysian in the northwest corner of Waseca county. This lake is fast disappearing because of a "senseless" drainage program, Mr. Bowe told the convention. He cited another instance of an attempt at "legislating more senseless drainage" in the Cliff senate file No. 237, providing for the drainage of lakes and ponds of certain minimum levels.

William F. Munch, Crookston, delivered a paper against winter fishing. Winter fishing, he said, has come to be nothing short of a tragedy. Nine of every 10 fish caught through the ice are females, he said, and with an uninterrupted continuance of this practice, he predicted an acute scarcity of game fish within a short time.

George H. Selover, Minneapolis attorney and chairman of the joint legislative committee of sportsmen's organizations, was elected president of the Minnesota chapter to succeed Dietrich Lange. Mr. Lange was named honorary president. Fred Doellner, secretary, Winona, was re-elected. Other officials named include Dean Rundlett, Minneapolis, first vice president; Dr. E. H. Goering, Duluth, second vice president, and Kenneth Wright, St. Paul, third vice president.

Mr. Selover outlined the progress of the joint legislative committee. He expressed the belief that the house section, setting May 29 as the opening day for bass, was "not final." He said that there is great need for the proposed zoning to permit northern Minnesota fish to spawn later than those in southern waters.

Assurances were given that Gov. Christianson would not oppose a reasonable increase in the department's appropriation for needed expansion.

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores

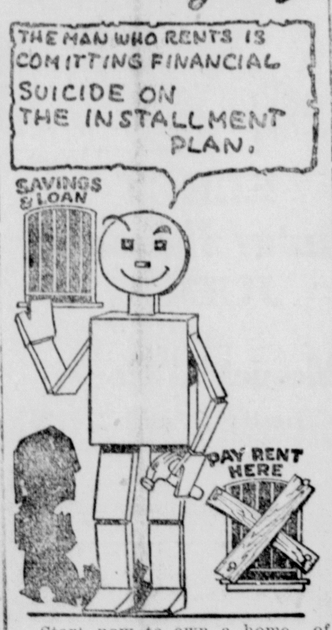

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels creat more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate; then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities, which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will help prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually helps make pimples disappear.—Advt.

ROOKIES HAVE LITTLE CHANCE IN NEW YORK

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 30.—Several years ago Johnny Mitchell was regarded as having the most stagnant job in baseball. He was the substitute shortstop with the New York Yankees and Deacon Scott, the regular shortstop, hadn't missed a single game in something like four years. It was a pipe as a lazy man's job, but it was a bad spot for a young player who had ambitions to get ahead in the game.

The role of an understudy is a good education when there is an occasional chance to work, but Mitchell had so much practice at watching Scott that it ruined him as a player and he was one of the most promising youngsters that had come up from the minor leagues. He kept up on his fielding, but he lost his batting eye in the shadow of the dugout.

Any rookie who is now grabbed in the minors by the New York Yankees or the New York Giants has an almost hopeless job to land even an upper berth as a substitute. There are no clubs in the major leagues where it is as difficult to displace a regular player as it is with the two New York clubs.

John McGraw hasn't a spot for the best player in the minor leagues and Miller Huggins couldn't use anything but a shortstop as good as Hans Wagner.

The Giant and Yankee managers were being congratulated this year over the fine collection of young players that their scouts had dug up last season, but there weren't any expressions of elation from them. They rather expected sympathy with the plea: "Now that we have 'em, what'll we do with 'em?"

McGraw has among the Giant regulars and substitutes the youngest infield in baseball and an outfield that is 15 years away from the artique state. In another year McGraw could use a young catcher in place of Frank Snyder and Hank Gowdy, but it should be years before he will have to look for some one to take the places of Bill Terry, Frankie Frisch, Travis Jackson, Freddy Lindstrom, Pep Young, Hack Wilson and Bill Southworth.

The Yankees can use a shortstop in another year but the other positions are in comparatively young hands. Wally Pipp is a veteran, but he is still a valuable player and Lou Gehrig, a player good enough to do regular duty with a dozen clubs, is ready for first base. Erin Ward and Joe Dugan have years ahead of them. The outfield is young and the catching staff, while rather worn, is still useful.

STATE'S DRAINAGE PROGRAM HIT BY WALTON LEAGUERS

POLICY DECLARED UNINTELLIGENT, HAPHAZARD AND MERCENARY

MANKATO CHAPTER ESPECIALLY STRONG IN ITS DENUNCIATION

(From St. Paul Daily News)

St. Paul, March 30.—An attack on Minnesota's drainage program was launched in the Izaak Walton league of Minnesota Saturday morning.

And from indications, this attack will elaborate itself into a full-grown finish fight before the convention session concludes.

Five of eight speakers on the morning program discussed different phases of the state program of drainage, and in the course of the remarks of the various speakers it was described as "vicious, unintelligent, haphazard and mercenary."

J. W. Schmidt, secretary of the Mankato chapter, Izaak Walton League of America, delivered the principal address on the subject.

Mr. Schmidt gained considerable note recently when he assisted in litigation which eventually reached the supreme court and which resulted in that body's decision against draining Lake Pleasant in southern Minnesota.

Dietrich Lange, president of the Minnesota chapter, Isaac Walton League of America, told the 60 odd delegates to the convention that "the subject of drainage is one of the most vital confronting sportsmen of the state today. It is vital not only from the sportsman's standpoint, but from every consideration of economy and sane judgment."

E. R. Ruggles, Osakis, led the discussion anent state drainage. Mr. Ruggles cited a concrete case of the partial drainage of Lake Osakis some few years ago. As a direct result of what he termed "this vicious, unintelligent and mercenary program," the entire countryside around Lake Osakis is suffering today.

"Some 60,000 acres were drained of their water supply at Osakis," Mr. Ruggles told the convention, "and after draining this vast tract not one single acre was suitable for agricultural use. In the face of this, there was refused a petition to construct at private cost a dam that would have kept Lake Osakis at its proper level. There is need for some state law that will permit a community to have drainage jurisdiction over the water bodies within the limits of that community," he said. He made a plea for some definite expression of the convention with reference to such a suggestion for state law.

E. E. Bowe, Waseca, followed Mr. Ruggles with a very similar paper. He cited the case of Lake Elysian in the northwest corner of Waseca county. This lake is fast disappearing because of a "senseless" drainage program, Mr. Bowe told the convention. He cited another instance of an attempt at "legislating more senseless drainage" in the Cliff senate file No. 237, providing for the drainage of lakes and ponds of certain minimum levels.

William F. Munch, Crookston, delivered a paper against winter fishing. Winter fishing, he said, has come to be nothing short of a tragedy. Nine of every 10 fish caught through the ice are females, he said, and with an uninterrupted continuance of this practice, he predicted an acute scarcity of game fish within a short time.

George H. Selover, Minneapolis attorney and chairman of the joint legislative committee of sportsmen's organizations, was elected president of the Minnesota chapter to succeed Dietrich Lange. Mr. Lange was named honorary president. Fred Doellner, secretary, Winona, was re-elected. Other officials named include Dean Rundlett, Minneapolis, first vice president; Dr. E. H. Goering, Duluth, second vice president, and Kenneth Wright, St. Paul, third vice president.

Mr. Selover outlined the progress of the joint legislative committee. He expressed the belief that the house action, setting May 29 as the opening day for bass, was "not final." He said that there is great need for the proposed zoning to permit northern Minnesota fish to spawn later than those in southern waters.

Assurances were given that Gov. Christianson would not oppose a reasonable increase in the department's appropriation for needed expansion.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples Are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and cast them out in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels creat more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate; then the blood uses the skin pores as the next best means of getting rid of these impurities, which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will help prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

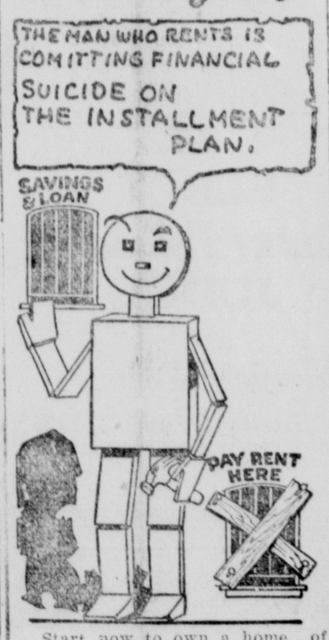

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually helps make pimples disappear.—Advt.
